Mrs. Agnes M. Sharp

AUG 16, 1926 - NOV 18, 2013

In loving memory of the most beautiful Mom a family could have Agnes McClelland Sharp. Our Mom

Agnes was born in Port Colborne, Canada August 16, 1926, to her father Alexander McClelland, and her mother Margaret Scott Horne. However, she was raised in Edinburgh, Scotland with her sister, Margaret and brother, Charlie. Our Parents During World War II, Agnes McClelland worked at the front desk of the George Hotel in Edinburgh, Scotland. There she met an American soldier on furlough from his base in England, Charles M. Sharp. She was instantly attracted to this handsome man in uniform, and he was drawn to the pretty lady behind the desk. This connection was the beginning of a very special romance. Charles was only able to see her a few more times before his tour of duty ended and he returned home to the United States. They corresponded by mail for two years before he proposed, and she accepted. In 1943, he arranged for her travel to the United States so they could be married. They were married in Woodbury, New Jersey April 21, 1943. Soon after the wedding, they moved to Houston, Texas to begin their life together as husband and wife. Her Family:

Children: Charles (Butch) Sharp, Margaret Adkins, Martin Sharp and wife Edith, Debra Isleib, and Robert (Bobby) Sharp

Grandchildren: Jason Isleib, Brandi Hargrove and husband Jeff, John Adkins and Heather Adkins

Great Grandchildren: Elias Adkins, Evan Miller, and Alexa Hargrove
