With all your expertise , the plants in front and back made it like a wonderland . Rick was a dear neighbor - always had a cheery "hello" and shared his love of plants and flowers with me. One day I told him he had a "magazine" yard and mine was a "newspaper" one. I will miss seeing him working his heart out in that beautiful yard on a given Saturday. God Bless You, Rick! Nora Wynn

Ricky and I grew up just a mile apart on Jett Road. His little sister, Barbara, was my childhood best friend. We spent many summers playing in the woods, ditches, and creeks. He was a typical big brother and delighted in annoying Barbara and me. One day, he found an old chair with the stuffing falling out and proceeded to hurl big, stinky chunks at me. Ha! The chase was on! The problem was...Ricky was FAST and I was....NOT. I had to wait until later when he thought the battle was over. Then...SWEET revenge was mine! As a teenager, he was sweet and kind. I never remember him having anything other than a smile and a kind word for those of us who knew him.
