Mrs. Daryl J. Terry

APR 19, 1924 - JUN 24, 2017

Daryl Jennings Henderson Terry, 93, born in Atlanta, Georgia, went to be with her Lord and Savior on June 24, 2017 in Houston, Texas. She was preceded in death by her parents, Tyre Lee Jennings, Jr and Ellie Louise Martin Jennings; her first husband, Joe Martin Henderson of Bryan , Texas and her late husband William Patton “Pat” Terry, Jr. of Copperhill, Tennessee. She was also predeceased by her loving brother, Tyre Lee Jennings III and wife Madylene, nephew Durhmon Jennings and his son, Matthew Jennings, all of Houston, Texas.

Daryl is survived by her loving daughter, Nancy Henderson Haupt, grandsons Grant Haupt, Jordan Haupt, and his wife Lauren and 3 beloved great-granddaughters, Kristen Haupt, Rachael and Melissa Haupt; niece Linda Holder, husband Mickey and family, niece Kay Montgomery, husband David and family.

After childhood spent in Atlanta, her parents moved to Dallas, Texas, where she graduated from Adamson High School in 1941. There she focused on a business curriculum and mastered shorthand and typing to be prepared for secretarial work. Daryl was employed as an administrative secretary for Shell Oil Company, both in Houston and Atlanta, retiring after a 26 year career.

She was also a devoted member of the Baptist Tabernacle in downtown Atlanta, where she met her second husband, Pat Terry Jr. he was a loving step-father to her daughter, Nancy and devoted grandfather to both of Nancy’s sons during their formative years. Daryl was an avid reader, loved her Bible and enjoyed fiction books. She loved looking through her many cookbooks and entertaining her family and friends, not sparing the fine china and silver. When her grandsons came along, she was very involved in caring for them and loved and adored them. She was also blessed to have three beautiful great-granddaughters, whom she cherished. Daryl will be greatly missed by all who knew and loved her.

A memorial Service is planned for Saturday, July 29, 2017 at 10 am at South Park Funeral and Cemetery in Pearland, Texas, with interment immediately following at South Park Cemetery.

It is hard to put into words just how much it has meant to me to have been a part of my Aunt Daryl's daily life for the last three years. My husband, David, and I have had the privilege of being able to oversee her care at the local nursing home here in Houston. My Dad, Ty (Buddy) and his sister, Daryl, had been very close and he talked daily over the phone with her before his passing away in 2010, when she was still lived in Atlanta. Daryl was not just my Aunt, but also my sister in Christ. She had a beautiful spirit and a deep faith in her Savior. She handled all the changes in her last years with much grace and exceptional strength for someone in her 90's. While I was growing up in Houston, I had not had the privilege of being able to see her and Uncle Pat, except for infrequent visits, due to our families living in different states. So after she was widowed and she was unable to live on her own, we were able to bring her to Houston. Her daughter, Nancy, needed to relocate to Illinois to be near her son and help out with his family health issues. Nancy and her mom were able to talk everyday on the phone. Aunt Daryl was a loving mother and grandmother. She had been so delighted to be able to see her great-granddaughters when they visited with her last year. I can't say enough about her strength of character and her deep love for her family. She was always so thankful and appreciative for what others did for her, and was a favorite patient of the staff at Park Manor nursing home. She was known for the care she had in her appearance, always having her earring and necklace matching her outfit and her lovely head of hair styled to perfection. She was a women of true warmth and Southern charm in all her interactions with others. She is greatly missed by all who had the privilege of knowing her. In loving memory of my Aunt, Kay Montgomery

I only met Mrs. Terry once (at the funeral service for her husband Pat Terry); but she was very gracious and such a sweet spirited person. It was my honor to meet her. I know her daughter Nancy. May your family be comforted by our gracious Lord during this sad time. Dorothy Hobgood Marietta, GA
