We still find ourselves looking for that call or text from you, and the poles and chairs are still in the car waiting for our fishing trip, it just does not seem real. We can't believe your no longer here but know you are with so many family members up there and smiling and still getting our fishing spot ready in heaven. My promise to you I made almost a year ago remains Bill I will always make him happy and he will always be loved. RIP we love you!
