Freddie Monroe O'Brien

JUN 17, 1935 - JUN 24, 2023

Ladies and gentlemen, family and friends,

Today, we gather here to celebrate the life and honor the memory of an extraordinary man, Fred O'Brien. It is with both sorrow and gratitude that we bid farewell to a loving husband, devoted father, grandfather, and cherished friend. As we reflect upon his journey, we find solace in knowing that his impact on our lives will forever be treasured.

Fred O'Brien was born in Winnsboro, Texas June 17, 1935, he lived a life filled with love, compassion, and unwavering faith. He embarked on a beautiful journey when he moved to Houston, alongside his beloved wife Vicki O'Brien. Together, they built a home that served as the foundation of their love and the center of their family's universe.

In his community, Fred was known for his deep dedication to his church. Serving with unwavering devotion, he touched the lives of countless individuals, providing guidance, comfort, and unwavering support. His kindness and generosity were evident in his actions, as he extended a helping hand to those in need, listened to those in distress, and offered words of encouragement to those seeking solace. Fred's commitment to his church and his unwavering faith have left an indelible mark on the hearts of those he encountered. He was served as a deacon for many years.

In addition to his service to the church and his devotion to his family, Fred O'Brien was known for his unwavering loyalty to his customers at his barbershop in Houston. For decades, he stood behind his barber's chair, scissors in hand, ready to offer not just a haircut, but a listening ear and a warm smile. His barbershop became a haven, a place where friendships were forged, stories were shared, and laughter filled the air. Fred took pride in his craft, ensuring that every customer who walked through his door left feeling not only well-groomed but also valued and cared for. As he skillfully trimmed hair, Fred saw an opportunity to go beyond small talk and engage in meaningful conversations. He would evangelize and share his faith, offering words of encouragement and hope to those who sat in his chair. His genuine interest in their lives extended beyond their physical appearance; it encompassed their spiritual well-being as well. Fred's dedication to spreading his faith through the art of cutting hair touched the lives of countless individuals, and his legacy of kindness, compassion, and spiritual guidance will forever be remembered by the community he served.

As a husband, Fred exemplified love, partnership, and unwavering commitment. Throughout their journey together, he and Vicki shared a love that transcended time, trials, and tribulations. Their bond was a testament to the power of enduring love, and their union served as a beacon of hope and strength for their entire family. They would have been married 58 years on November 21, 2023.

Fred was a loving father to his two sons, Sean and Tim, and his wife, Lynda. He guided them with patience, wisdom, and a deep sense of responsibility. Fred's presence in their lives was a source of unwavering support and a shining example of what it meant to be a caring and involved father. Through his guidance, he instilled in his sons the values of integrity, compassion, and hard work, shaping them into the remarkable men they are today.

To his grandchildren—Ashley, Devon, Kellyn, Mackenzie, and Zachary—Fred was an adored and cherished figure. He was the loving grandfather who showered them with affection, shared stories, and offered a listening ear. His presence brought warmth and joy to their lives, and they were blessed to have him as a pillar of strength and love. Fred's legacy lives on in their hearts and will continue to guide them as they navigate their own journeys.

As a great-grandfather, Fred was blessed to witness the growth of five generations. He is known to them as “superman” as he often shared the best grandpa jokes. His love extended to his great-grandchildren, bringing smiles, laughter, and a sense of belonging to their lives. Though their time together was brief, the memories and the love he bestowed upon them will forever remain a cherished part of their lives.

Today, as we bid farewell to Fred O'Brien, let us remember the lessons he taught us. Let us honor his legacy by embracing his unwavering faith, his commitment to family, and his dedication to serving others. Fred's presence will be deeply missed, but his spirit lives on within each of us. May we carry his values, love, and kindness in our hearts as we continue our own journeys.

My deepest sympathies to Vicki and the family of Fred O'Brien. Truly my heart goes out to you. Fred will be dearly missed. I will always remember his kindness and prayers when my mom was sick with cancer. Mom and dad and I went to Fred and Vicki's barber shop for hair cuts....we all got a hair cut that day to feel spruced up. Fred did dad's hair and Vicki did mom's and my hair. Afterward Fred and Vicki laid hands on my mom and Fred said the most beautiful prayer. God bless Fred and Vicki always! Fred has been a blessing to so many. I know he will always watch over his Vicki and his family.
