I loved taking Angel home in high school. Her mom would make me the best tortillas ever. Such a sweet and kind person. Love and peace for her family and friends.

I met Aurora after she and Angelica moved next door to me in Monterotondo Marittimo, Italy. It was such an odd thing to happen....two americans and a bilingual Italo-American ending up next door to each other in such a remote, small Tuscan village! Aurora was getting her hair done at my hairdresser's when we met. She was a lovely lady and I'm glad I had a chance to get to know her and Angelica. Angelica and I, who both lost our sons to gun violence, felt that it was our sons who planned for us to meet, so that we could become each other's support group. May lovely Aurora rest in peace with her beloved husband and grandson.
