Anthony Santiago Mottu

NOV 24, 1992 - SEP 5, 2025

Born November 24, 1992 and entered eternal peace with his Savior Jesus Christ on September 5, 2025.

A resident of Spring, Tx. Anthony was a graduate of Clear Lake High School. He continued his education by earning an Associates of Arts in music and an Associates of Science in Business Administration at Alvin Community College. A Bachelors of Science in Finance from University of Houston and a Certification in Financial Planning at Rice University-Glasscock School of Continuing Studies. He went on to become a very competent Financial Advisor and Planner with Fidelity Investments.

Ant, as he was called by those closest to him, was a fan of many different sports. Above all, his favorite sport was baseball. He traveled with his dad to many Major League Stadiums across the country to watch games. He supported all the local Houston sports teams but will be remembered as a dedicated New York Mets fan.

Always a foodie, he enjoyed cooking and tasting new and different cuisines but he especially loved a good Hot Dog and BBQ.

He was very competitive, whether gaming on teams with friends or against them, playing Pickleball and Chess. On his last adventure he decided to go skydiving and said it was the best experience he ever had.

He loved watching Marvel movies or a good tv series. Ted Lasso was one he felt he could really relate with.

Above all, Anthony was a passionate and accomplished musician and percussionist. He displayed his talent by playing Praise and Worship in church and as a member of the band Phoenix Splash.

Anthony Santiago Mottu

NOV 24, 1992 - SEP 5, 2025

His music will not only continue in the recordings but also in the hearts and souls of those that heard his art and knew and loved him.

Anthony is preceded in death by his Maternal Grandmother - Janie Carrisalez Rosalez, Paternal Grandmother - Carmen Luna Mottu, Paternal Grandfather - Roy Zepeda Mottu. He is survived by his mother - Norma Rosalez, his father - James Mottu (Kenia Garcia), Maternal Grandfather - Eloy Rosalez (Betty), Step Father - Chad Nunn, Paternal Step Grandfather - Wilfredo Hernandez, Step Sisters - Vivian Sofka (Joshua), Karina Chacon (Virgil Williford), and Odalis Dyson (Michael), Step Brothers - Christopher Nunn (Sarah), Cody Nunn, and Michael Nunn, numerous Aunts, Uncles, Cousins and other extended family members and countless friends.

The immense bond and dedication he had to his mother, Norma, transcends his passing.

Anthony was a friend to all, a giver, a peacemaker, fun-loving, a jokester and the one that lit up any room he entered. The practical jokes and banter between Anthony, his mom and Uncle Billy Rosalez was a constant source of laughter. One friend simply describes him as "JOY".

Anthony can be honored and remembered best by living each of our lives in a way where we lift each other up, show kindness everywhere we may be, give to those in need, call or go see that person that's on your heart, be encouragers, have a listening ear and most importantly, love each other in the manner in which Jesus loves all of us.

Those who knew and love Anthony take comfort in knowing that he is at peace and that the drums in Heaven are being played very well today.

I have many a sweet endearing memories of dear Anthony, and mainly involving our son, Justin, as the two of them grew up together, seemed inseparable for years, and kept such a wonderful loving bond as the closest of friends all these years. When our family first moved to Houston from Chicago in 2001, Justin attended Armand Bayou Elementary, and there met Anthony, where these two shy l'il guys became fast friends. I can't help but always flashback to one evening at the school, the class they were in together put on 'The Living Museum,' whereby parents and siblings would wander the halls near the classrooms, and standing outside in various areas were the young students dressed as someone they admire and chose to vocalize a brief 'automated' message when the passersby would step on the big paper button at the foot of the character. While Justin portrayed Astronaut Neil Armstrong with a cool mini-bio expressed, right nearby was Anthony who was portraying first us President George Washington, complete with American war general garb. The poor guy was so hot in that regal costume and notable white hair, but pulled off his fine speech with finesse and informative facts every time! So impressive. There were so many fun antics that always took place whenever Anthony came over to the house to play with Justin. The two of them would be laughing constantly, and plotting silly sinister things to do. These two peas in a pod were the best free entertainment we could've asked for. We loved our time visiting with Anthony's mom and family whenever the opportunity came about. Felt more like the kids were brothers than friends often times. Personally, I really enjoyed Anthony's company when I went to attend Justin's graduation from his university some years ago. My wife, Nancy, was unable to attend due to illness, but having Anthony with whom to ride around, attend the ceremony, and some other events was purely a pleasure. Got to know the fine young adult Anthony much better, and learn about all his ventures in music, business, advanced video games, etc. He was always so caring, kind, gentle, sweet, and humorous. I will always be grateful to Anthony for being such a devoted loving friend to our Justin. To Norma, James, Chad, and all who knew and loved Anthony, we wish your or most sincere prayers and may you all be blessed with love, the best memories, comfort, strength, and inner peace, eternally. Rest in peace and Godspeed, Anthony. -Roger Weiss and family

Anthony Mottu was the best friend that I ever had. I walked through life unable to cultivate any meaningful friendships or relationships, until I met this guy in 4th grade. We became attached at the hip. As time went on, our interests, values, and hobbies drifted from one another. But we never drifted. We had an unbreakable bond (which still has not been broken, to this day). Despite us turning out to be complete opposites, sans our irreverent sense of humor, we remain inseparable. Anthony was always the sort of man that I wanted to be. And he still is. The guy was intuitively gifted at everything he touched - music, games, logic, math...it was actually quite frustrating for me to constantly lose to him. But my respect for him never wavered. His kindness, gentleness, and curiosity informed the way that I show up in my own friendships. I know that I could have explored deeper ways of connecting with you, and found resistance to approaching that. But I know that you persistently loved me exactly the way that I was. Except when I told you that I wound up in financial debt...whoops. But you did still love me. And I love you, man. Living 1000+mi away, I persistently miss you. Now the feeling has gone from missing you to longing for your jokes, your ripping on me, your geeking out on topics that my feeble brain could never comprehend. I long for that in my life again. But I know you're always with me, and in the arms of creator. I love you, man. And I'll see you soon, ya dirty dog.
