In sharing this memory, I have to speak of both, Mr. & Mrs. Salas. I cannot speak of one, without the other. They always presented themselves as Loving, respectful, caring, & understanding members of our Church, St. Benedict's. Always there for anyone who needed guidance, consoling, or someone to just listen to them, always with a loving smile. It was a great honor for me when I asked them to be our Godparents/Padrinos at our wedding, and they accepted. Few people come to mind when I could honestly say, I would have them loved to have had them as my parents. The world is a better place today because of Mr. & Mrs. Salas, setting the example of how to treat everyone else. Mrs. Salas always lead the conversation, with Mr. Salas emphasizing the keys points of the subject. A beautiful Couple, who we will all remember, and miss very much. Thank you, both. We love you and we will dearly miss you. - Ramon & Norma Castorena

Hard to pick just one. As a child, watching her cook breakfast & dinners almost daily, the delicious tortillas and carne asada I can still imagine the smell like it was yesterday. I wanted to learn to cook amazing dishes just like her. Memories of visiting her and welo at their home as I became an adult, it never failed she would always insist on feeding you. Id never turn it down, It was one of her love languages that rubbed off on me. Watching her grow beautiful strong bonds with my two boys, is something I'll hold dear to my heart. ❤️ She's more than my grandmother, she's my protector, my teacher, a healer. Wela, you'll be missed so much.
